

Watching Over You

You may live in a great big mansion

You may live in a little mud hut

You may live in a four-storey building

You may live under a tree

You may live in a Swiss chalet

You may live in an Indian tepee

You may live in a dormitory

You may live in a meetinghouse

Chorus: But wherever you go or wherever you stay

You know everything's going to be okay

Whatever you say or whatever you do

Your Father in heaven is watching over you.

You may live in a tall bell tower

You may live in a small statehouse

You may live on a pile of garbage

You may live in a deep dark forest

You may live on a snowy mountain

You may live under the sea

Chorus

By a flowing river, down an old dirt road

On the side of a hill, in a flat hot desert.

You may live in a beehive

You may live on a log dam

You may live up in the air

You may live under the ground

Chorus
